Prashant is now trying to have our Ebay and Amazon stores all delisted.

There is a good chance he'll get them all taken down and it will be hell getting them back up, and he'll just keep getting various admin in those companies taking them down again and again.

I think we should start sending you more of the daily hell we deal with since we went with the FBI's suggestion of offering to pay him an extortion payment.

Chris, we were put in a situation by advice from you guys and it was a big mistake up to this point now. What is going on with the AUSA?
